

POST ADOPTION AND SUBSIDIZED GUARDIANSHIP SERVICES

Post Adoption and Subsidized Guardianship Services

The Illinois Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS) realizes the valuable contribution families make in giving a child a permanent family through adoption or guardianship. This undertaking is one that will change lives forever.

By making the lifelong commitment to care for a child, adoptive and guardianship parents have ended the formal, day-to-day involvement of DCFS. That prospect can raise many emotions and perhaps even some concerns. Families formed by adoption and guardianship may experience some unique challenges. Your family now makes the important decisions for the children now in your home. You, not a caseworker, are responsible for finding information, resources and programs. It is important to reach out early and often before smaller concerns escalate into crisis.

It is important that children and families do more than survive – they should thrive. There are many resources available through Illinois DCFS, other government agencies and in the community that can help you and your family.

This booklet is designed to present families with an overview of the many services available, including supportive, trauma-focused, adoption/guardianship sensitive services to meet your child's ongoing needs. The first section outlines services that the department provides or funds for children previously in its care. It also includes resources outside of DCFS that you may contact for services. At the end of the booklet there is a collection of information available to all families that is not specific to adoption but may be of special interest to adoptive and guardianship families. Please keep this booklet as a handy reference.

Part 1: Adoption and Guardianship Subsidy and Other Financial Considerations

The Adoption/Guardianship Subsidy

Families adopting children or becoming guardians of children in the care of DCFS may receive subsidies to assist them after adoption or guardianship.

Subsidy components

Subsidies for eligible children may include any or all of the following:

- Payment for non-recurring expenses directly related to the adoption is available in an amount not to exceed $2,250 per child for the adoption or guardianship.
- Monthly cash payments are available based on the needs of the child and the family circumstances.
- A Medicaid card is available to cover Medicaid-eligible services.
- Payment or reimbursement payment can be made for physical, emotional and mental health needs that are not covered through insurance or public resources and that resulted from a pre-existing condition. Services must be pre-approved by DCFS to receive payment or reimbursement
- Employment-related daycare payments are available for children under the age of 3 years, if day care is required due to the parent or guardian's employment or participation in a training program that will lead to employment.
- Therapeutic daycare is available for children who are determined to have a disability that requires special education services through an Individualized Education Plan (IEP), an Individual Family Service Plan (IFSP) or a 504 Educational Plan and is not fundable through another source. The child must be unable to be maintained in employment-related daycare programs and services must be pre-approved by DCFS. These services must be approved through the child's subsidy and the provider must have the appropriate credentials/training to provide therapeutic daycare for the child(ren) specific needs. This service will be reviewed on an ongoing basis to determine continued eligibility.

If you have questions about your subsidy, contact the DCFS Subsidy Support Line at 866-538-8892 or 312-808-5250 and you will be connected to the assigned subsidy support specialist in your region. You can also go to pathbeyondadoption.illinois.gov for assistance, resources and updated information.

If you do not receive your check AFTER 30 DAYS, you may request a stop payment by contacting the DCFS Payment Unit.

Medical Care Benefits

Medical card

DCFS youth in care and former youth in care have transitioned into Medicaid managed care plans through HealthChoice Illinois. Former youth in care are youth under 18 years of age (or under 21 years of age if the child has been found to have specialized needs by the department), who were previously under the guardianship of DCFS prior to adoption or subsidized guardianship. Former youth in care will automatically be enrolled in YouthCare Health Plan. Adoptive parents or guardians may choose a different health plan for their former youth in care, upon finalization of adoption or subsidized guardianship. Each youth will receive a medical card that will cover all Medicaid-eligible services provided by a contracted Medicaid provider under the enrolled health plan.

- Anyone who did not choose an alternate Managed Care Organization (MCO) – managed care health plan 30 days after adoption/guardianship finalization is automatically enrolled with YouthCare.
- However, anyone can change their MCO – managed care health plan for up to 90 days after they select their managed care plan. After the one-time switch or when 90 days is up, the plan cannot be changed for one year from the anniversary date of selection, which is your specific child's open enrollment. An open enrollment letter will be sent out before the open enrollment starts. To change the plan, they can call Client Enrollment Services at 877-912-8880.

For any YouthCare related questions, including but not limited to, coverage questions, primary care physician questions or to verify that providers are part of the YouthCare network, call 844-289-2264 and ask for the Rapid Response Team or send an email to ILYouthCare@Centene.com.

Subsidy and Medical Coverage Payments When Moving Out of Illinois

Interstate Compact on Adoption and Medical Assistance (ICAMA)

ICAMA and adoptive families

Families often worry about what will happen to their child's subsidy if they move out of state. Illinois is a member of the Interstate Compact on Adoption and Medical Assistance (ICAMA), which assists adoptive families moving in or out of Illinois.

Moving prior to adoption finalization

Your adoption worker will provide you with information about your child's medical coverage prior to the adoption. If you will be moving out of state, there are various options for medical care in your new state of residence. To obtain a referral and to discuss your options before moving out of state contact your adoption worker first. If further assistance is needed, contact the Interstate Compact Office at 217-785-2680 or via email at DCFS.InterstateCompactGeneral@illinois.gov.

Moving after finalization

If you plan an out-of-state move after the adoption is finalized, contact your subsidy support specialist for information on the steps that will be taken to ensure that the new state has all of the necessary information. Illinois will continue to process your monthly subsidy payment and you may contact your subsidy support specialist as needed. Your subsidy support specialist will provide information about the options for medical coverage described above.

Guardianship families can contact the Interstate Compact Office at 217-785-2680 to discuss their options before moving out of state, as they may differ from families who have adopted.

Tax Information for Foster and Adoptive Families

Since 2003, families who adopt a child with special needs from foster care can claim a federal adoption tax credit without needing to incur or document expenses. For non-special needs adoptions (except stepparent adoptions, which do not qualify for the credit), parents can claim the credit with the same rules as below, except that they must document qualified adoption expenses. You do not have to submit documents to IRS but must keep them for your files.

The amount of the credit is based on the year the adoption finalized.

To qualify for the credit without documenting expenses, families must:

- Have adopted a child determined special needs (who receives adoption assistance).
- Have a modified adjusted gross income below a level.

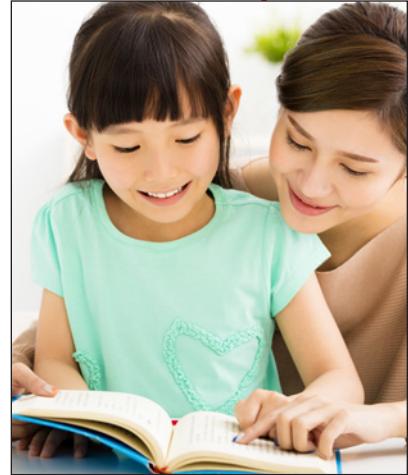

For example, how much, if any, of the credit you can use is based on your income. For 2024, those with adjusted gross incomes above $292,150 could not claim the credit; those with incomes from $252,151 to $292,150 could claim a portion of the credit.

To claim the credit, complete IRS Form 8839 in addition to filing your usual IRS Form 1040. If you are using software, it will generate the needed forms. If you are filing by paper, forms are available on www.irs.gov or <https://www.nacac.org/help/adoption-tax-credit/irs-forms-related-to-the-adoption-tax-credit/>. If the IRS were to audit your return and the documentation of your adoption of a child with special needs, you would submit a copy of your adoption decree and adoption assistance agreement.

Currently the Adoption Tax Credit is not refundable, which means that a family may not be able to use the full amount of the credit (some families unable to use any credit) in the year they claim the credit. Families have a total of six years to use the credit. Any unused credit is carried forward to the next year. Most families will not receive the full credit as a refund to their tax return. Families that typically receive a refund should still file for the Adoption Tax Credit as they may receive a larger refund due to the Adoption Tax Credit.

For more information, visit <https://www.nacac.org/help/adoption-tax-credit/> (includes link to recorded webinar), email taxcredit@nacac.org, or call 651-644-3036.

NACAC is not a tax professional organization, and this information should not be considered legal or tax advice. For further questions please seek out guidance from a certified tax professional.

Illinois Sites: Adoption and Guardianship Preservation Providers

Part 2: Services and Supports for adoptive and subsidized guardianship families

Statewide subsidy support information

Subsidy support contacts

For most services listed in this booklet you can contact the agencies directly at the numbers listed. Any services not listed in part two of this book must be included in your subsidy. Service providers must have approval from the Subsidy Support Unit prior to starting services. To speak to your regional subsidy support specialist, contact the Statewide Subsidy Support Unit at 866-538-8892 or 312-808-5250.

Support and Preservation Services

Families created through adoption or guardianship may experience challenges that require intensive services to help them gain stability and to reduce the risk of out-of-home placement. The Adoption and Guardianship Support Preservation Program recognizes that families built through adoption or guardianship may have characteristics significantly different from those created through birth. This can result in unique challenges for the family. The Adoption and Guardianship Support and Preservation Program helps families who often feel they need assistance to meet their family's needs by offering family-centered support and services. Testimonials from families who have used support services reveal that these services worked, while other traditional, less intensive services they had tried, did not. DCFS contracts with agencies statewide to provide Adoption and Guardianship Support and Preservation Services for free to adoption and subsidized guardianship families.

The goals of all preservation programs are to help parents:

- Feel supported and empowered in their parenting abilities.
- Understand adoption and guardianship and its impact on children.
- Understand trauma and its effects on current thoughts and behaviors.
- Understand the child's past losses.
- Gain skills to help their child.

Each Adoption and Guardianship Support and Preservation Agency can provide the following:

- Comprehensive assessment/Crisis intervention: Preservation staff will respond by phone within 24 hours and make an in-home visit within three days. A therapist will help a family identify their own strengths, complete an assessment and develop a family treatment plan within 30 days of the referral to the program.
- Clinical services: A therapist will provide clinical services in the family treatment plan.
- Support groups: Support groups are offered for both parents and youth at times and locations that meet the family's needs.
- Case management/advocacy services: The agency will manage the case and the services as outlined in the family treatment plan.

- Children's mental health advocacy services: If a child has significant mental health needs, the program will provide or facilitate services.
- Cash assistance: If a family participating in the program experiences economic hardships or requires specialized services that cannot be obtained through other resources, a cash assistance payment (limited to $500 per family per fiscal year) may be provided.
- START (Start Early, Trauma-informed, Attachment-focused, Resiliency-building, Therapeutic services): A customizable and flexible short-term prevention service to address the family's specific needs. START services are family-focused, provide interactive and meaningful activities with children and caregivers, and link families to experienced clinicians trained in the most effective techniques for working with the toughest situations.

The key to support and preservation services is that they serve the whole family to keep the family together. The subsidy support specialists/therapists work with all members of the family, not just the child with the identified concerns, to identify ways they can work as a unit. The adoption and guardianship support and preservation service agencies understand the rhythms of the special families they serve and can respond to crisis situations. Families that find they need intensive intervention to keep their family supported can call the appropriate agency from the list on the following pages.

Adoption and Guardianship Respite Program

Respite Services are available to children who were adopted or have gone through subsidized guardianship placement with Illinois DCFS.

Respite services are defined as short-term, temporary care provided for children to give some relief to the adoptive or subsidized guardianship family. Respite components may include any or all the following: mentoring, hourly in-home, out-of-home and overnight respite care; and specialized camp experiences. The respite care may be regularly scheduled or may be requested on an emergency basis. Respite services are typically short-term (six months to one year).

An initial assessment is completed on the family and child to develop a service plan which will offer the appropriate type of respite for that family. Services may be provided up to one year. There is no cost for participation in this respite program.

Family First

Family First has several provisions to enhance support services for families to help children remain at home with their families, reduce unnecessary use of congregate care and build the capacity of communities to support children and families. This is being achieved by emphasizing prevention, early intervention and the use of family-centered, trauma-informed and strength-based interventions throughout Illinois.

Understanding the impact of trauma and shifting our mindset to view families through a trauma-informed lens creates a more compassionate and effective approach while serving families using interventions that are known to be effective. Evidenced Based Interventions involve approaches to prevention and/or treatment that are validated by documented scientific evidence. This includes findings established through controlled clinical studies, but other methods of establishing evidence are valid as well. This, along with providing the appropriate Evidenced Based Intervention to families, will lead to more positive, sustaining outcomes for children and their families.

Search and Reunion Services

The DCFS Closed File Information and Search program provides information from DCFS files and can help you locate birth relatives. If you are an adult adopted person or the adoptive or guardianship parent of a minor, you are entitled to receive certain information. Midwest Adoption Center (MAC) is a statewide program that will attempt to locate DCFS files and prepare documents for your review. It can include nonidentifying information about biological relatives, medical and social history, a description of how the child came into care and a record of placements before adoption or guardianship.

The law does not permit DCFS to release identifying information from the files such as the names and addresses of others. However, you can request search service to help locate relatives including birth parents, siblings, grandparents and others. If they can locate the sought out relative, the MAC caseworker will explain the reason for the outreach and every attempt will be made to negotiate an arrangement that is comfortable for everyone. You may want to exchange some information through your MAC caseworker, communicate by letter without revealing your name, or you and your relative may decide to have direct contact. This program is not intended to provide in-depth counseling, but assistance and support will be offered to you and to your birth relative throughout the process. There is no fee for service.

The Confidential Intermediary Service of Illinois assists those who were private adoptees as well as adopted parents and birth relatives of these adoptees in search and reunion services, on the condition that either the adoption or birth took a place in Illinois.

An intake worker is available to answer any questions regarding the steps necessary to file a petition in court. A Confidential Intermediary (CI) appointed by court contacts the petitioner and keeps them updated on the case. Supportive counseling is provided to the initiating client as requested throughout the life of the case.

To request service, please call or email Midwest Adoption Center. Forms can also be downloaded from the MAC website: www.macadopt.org.

Illinois Adoption Registry

The Illinois Adoption Registry provides a way for certain individuals involved in an adoption in Illinois to locate other people involved in the adoption. Persons who were adopted or surrendered for adoption, their birth parents, birth siblings, adoptive parents and legal guardians of an adopted person may file their consent to exchange information with others involved in the adoption. If done in compliance with the law, information may be exchanged without the need for a court order.

Confidential facts may be released to registrants only after at least two parties to the adoption have filed their consent to exchange the specified information.

The following individuals may register:

- Birth parents.
- Adopted or surrendered person, 21 years of age or older.
- Surviving relative of deceased (adult child of adopted or remaining adoptive parent of minor child or adoptive parent).
- Surviving relative of deceased birth parent (adult child or brother or sister of parent).
- Adoptive parents of adopted individuals under age 21.
- Legal guardians of adopted or surrendered persons.

The Adoption Registry also includes a medical exchange. The Medical Information Exchange Questionnaire asks questions about diseases or conditions that medical professionals believe may be inherited or have a genetic link, that is, illnesses that “run in families.” These diseases and conditions are of interest to other biological family members and their physicians because knowing about them may alert the family members and physicians to watch more carefully for certain signs and symptoms and to take preventive action. Medical history can be exchanged confidentially without revealing identities. No identity will be exchanged unless all parties agree.

There are various options available to assist you in future planning for your child. Your attorney can assist you with the legal requirements for the following options:

Standby Adoption

Standby adoption is a court-approved arrangement that provides for a future adoption of your child if needed. Standby adoption allows you to ask the court to appoint a person or persons as standby adoptive parent(s) of your child, and that person “stands by” until needed. The standby adoptive parent doesn’t take custody of your child until the adoption becomes final, when a) you decide that you want the adoption to be final or b) upon your death. In the meantime, you retain all your rights as a parent, and custody of your child.

Standby guardianship

A standby guardianship is a legal arrangement approved by a judge that provides for future care for your child, but only if it is needed. It allows you to appoint someone as legal guardian of your child, but that person “stands by” until needed. In other words, the standby guardian does not take custody of your children immediately, but only at some point in the future when you are no longer able to take care of your children yourself.

Short-term guardianship

A short-term guardianship is a private legal arrangement between you and the person you want to take care of your child. A short-term guardian is not a permanent arrangement. The person that you appoint as short-term guardian will only have authority to act as guardian for as long as 365 days. It is very useful if you are going to be hospitalized or are entering a residential program or facility where you will need to be without your children.

Notifying your subsidy support specialist

Please note that you will need to advise your regional subsidy support specialist of any standby or short-term arrangements that you are contemplating or any time you make alternate long-term arrangements for your child’s care. Eligibility for a subsidy in a subsequent adoption or guardianship must be determined by subsidy support staff and a new subsidy document must be signed prior to the finalization of a new adoption or guardianship.

Part 4: Additional family resources

Income-based services and resources

Daycare for children over 3 years old

Adoptive or guardianship families with children 3 years of age and older who do not qualify for therapeutic day care may still be eligible for day care assistance through the Illinois Department of Human Services (DHS). Parents must meet the following criteria to receive daycare assistance:

- Illinois resident.
- You are working and meet income requirements.
- You receive TANF.
- You are a teen parent enrolled full-time in elementary or high school or GED program.
- Family with a special needs child(ren).

All families pay a portion of the cost as a co-payment. The amount of the family's co-payment is based on income and family size. Call the DHS toll-free day care referral line, 877-20-CHILD or visit www.dhs.state.il.us and click the child care link. By entering a zip code, the call will be connected to the referral agency serving that area.

Need help finding child care?

Call Illinois Action for Children at 312-823-1100 option 3. If you are located outside of Cook County, ask for a Parent Referral Line that serves your county. Families from around the state can also call the DHS toll-free referral line (877-20-CHILD). Visit the website at www.actforchildren.org

All Kids Healthcare

All Kids is a state program offering health care coverage or help in paying premiums of employer-sponsored or private insurance plans for children through age 18. For eligibility requirements or more information, call 866-255-5437 or visit <https://hfs.illinois.gov/medicalprograms/allkids/about.html>. This program cannot be used in conjunction with the medical card obtained with the subsidy.

Earned Income Tax Credit

The Earned Income Credit (EIC) is a special tax benefit for people who work who are low or moderate income. The EIC is a refundable credit, so if you normally owe taxes at filing time you may owe less or even receive a refund. For families that typically receive a refund it will increase the size of your refund. Benefits and eligibility may change each year. To obtain this benefit, families only need to complete their tax form (1040 or 1040A) and attach Schedule EIC. More information on EIC can be obtained by calling the Internal Revenue Service at 1-800-829-1040 or go to www.irs.gov.

The goal of the program is to establish a stronger support system that will help caregivers continue to care for the children in their care. In cases where this is not possible, program staff assists families in making new and more appropriate arrangements that ensures the safety, well-being and permanency of the children. These services are only provided to residents of Cook County and some surrounding counties. Contact them at 773-884-2260.
